

Scrum – Key principles

- Product owners are responsible for a well-maintained product backlog
- Determine individual sprint goals and velocity
- Move cards from the product backlog to a temporary planning board
- Sizing cards on the planning board is done independently and anonymously (at least initially)
- Use priority, sizing, and other information to hold meaningful planning discussions
- Create a sprint backlog from the planning board; return cards not accepted into the sprint back to the product backlog
- Respect the sprint backlog
- Monitor/adjust the sprint daily
